The Reigning Style

The Outing collar, introduced first by us last Spring, was universally adopted by well dressed men and altho' copied under many brands, none possess its distinctive style and perfect fit. Be sure to get the Corliss-Coon Onting, a collar you'll enjoy wearing.

If You Want to Know about wearing qualities, mark your collars each time they go to the laundry. You will find that Corliss-Coon collars outwear others. And here's why-

They are always full 4-ply strength with heavy interlining cut away at the end of the folding line so they will fold more times without breaking, Regular and Quarter Sizes. Ask the best dealers for Corliss-Coon collars. They have them or can get any style you desire in our make. If not will-ingly supplied, write us and we'll tell you where to get them.

Lawyer Who Defended Actress Is Disappointed Because She Has Signed Contract to Appear on the Stage.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL

New York, May 17.-Abraham Levy, who defended Nan Patterson on her three trials for murder, has withdrawn finally and absolutely from the case. He announced this to-day on learning that the actress had signed a contract to appear on the stage next week.

In case Nan, who is still under indictment for the murder of "Caesar" Young. is ever brought to trial again, she will have to secure new counsel. Mr. Levy declares that beither he nor his firm is in any sense advance agent for his recent "I know nothing about the contract to appear on the stage beyond what I read in the dispatches from Philadeiphia," said in the dispatches from Philadeiphia." said the lawyer. "I was not consulted about it, and I strongly disapprove of Miss Patterson's action.

"My connection with the case has ceased for all time. I put in mearly a year of archous work, and after I had accomplished the purpose of my retainer, and secured my citent's discharge from custedy, my hands were cleared. I am through with the Nan Patterson case. That cannot be put too plainly."

SUES AS RESULT OF FIGHT.

George H. Fox Asks $2,060 Damages From Traction Company. George H. Fox of St. Louis yesterday filed suit in the Clayton Circuit Court for $2.000 actual and $2.000 punitive damages against the St. Louis, St. Charles and Western Railroad Company.

The suit is the outgrowth of a fight on one of the defendant's cars, July 26, 1902 Miss Moss was choking and he began an investigation without delay. The dector's efforts resulted in locating a fishbone in between Scott Brouster, a conductor, and a party of lumbermen, who were returning from a visit to the home of a member of their organization in St. Louis County. The fight started over the conductor's objection to the drinking of beer on the car and in the melec. Fox was struck over the head with a collection box. His skail was fractured from the blow. It is alleged that his face will be permanently scarred.

Both the railroad companies and various members of the party brought suit, as well as Brouster, the conductor, who alleged that he had been assaulted. The company sued for alleged damage to its car. The suits have not all been settled. between Scott Brouster, a conductor, and

House Bill No. 5% was intended to prohibit any person from asking or seiling theater tickets at a greater price than that in printed announcements. The Governor says in his message to the Secretary of State concerning this particular

Other Defective in Title.

"Sections 5 and 6 are repugnant to the Constitution of the United States. These sections single out and punish persons selling tickets to theaters. The purchaser can have an action against the person selling the same and recover the excess price, together with attorney's fees. The Supreme Court of the United States, in the case of the Gulf, Colorado and Santa Fe Railroad, held this to be obsoxious to the Fourteenth Amendment.

"Section 2 is incomplete. It is no doubt intended to make it a misdemeanor to ask, demand or receive the price for a ticket in excess of that asked, demanded or re-ceived from any other person for the same privilege. This the act has not done
